

CONVOCATION ASSIGNMENT(S)

Due: the Wed after each convocationRobert Utterback

Over the course of the semester you will have many “convocations” on Tuesdays. For each, you need to write a one paragraph response, turned in on the Wednesday following the convocation. In other words, the next day.

For the response, you will reflect on the Tuesday special session and draw a conclusion as to what you think is the most important idea presented in the session. To help you do this, you should take notes during the convocation.

After stating that key idea, use the rest of the paragraph to explain why that idea was the most important, to expand on the idea’s meaning, to explore your connection to the idea, connect the sessions to other course content, etcetera.
